

W8SAI Estate Sale Terms

We are in the process of selling off an extremely large collection of ham radio and broadcast items. Please bear in mind that there is a very large number of items that are being sorted from 3 locations, and his XYL is trying her best to match boxes and accessories to the various radios. That being said, here are the terms of sale:

- You must be PATIENT – I am helping his XYL, as Ted was a good friend, but we live on opposite sides of town. It will take time to get answers to your individual questions about a particular item, or to obtain pictures. As we sort through this, I will add photos to the spreadsheet that is posted online. We did not anticipate the flood of emails that we have encountered.
- All sales are FINAL. We cannot possibly test all of this equipment. If you have questions about an item (I do know about some of them), email me, and I will try to get you an answer, but all sales are AS-IS. There will be NO RETURNS.
- Many of the items are New in the Box. We don't want to remove them from the factory packing to take pictures, because they often are difficult to re-pack correctly.
- We do NOT accept Paypal, or other Electronic Payments. (On some of the high-ticket items we have accepted a wire-transfer to her bank)
- All Payments will be by Money Order or Bank Check. No personal checks. Items will be shipped once the check clears.
- On most items, we will not offer a "Shipped" price. Shipping by Fedex (our preferred method) varies greatly on weight and destination.
- PLEASE BE PATIENT to get a shipping quote for a total. Many of these items are not in the original box. (and most of the original boxes are not suitable for shipping) I will get a figure to you just as quickly as we can. But we are not a store. To get a shipping quote, we must have the item boxed, measured, and weighed, then get the shipping cost online from either Fedex, or in the case of items that will fit in USPS Priority Mail boxes, from USPS.

- Tracking numbers will be provided when the item has shipped.
- It will not speed up the process by sending repeated emails, it will do just the opposite. So, try to hang in there with us, and we will try to get you an answer. Please don't expect a reply to your email immediately.

We will update the list online as additional items are identified and photographed. This has been a learning experience for us, and perhaps we listed too many things at once. But keep checking the online list. If it is still up, we still have items for sale.
